Memberships in Great Decisions Groups Mount

Preliminary tabulation of ballots handed in from the first of the "Great Decisions" discussion groups meeting in Carmel and Carmel Valley last week shows considerable diversity of opinion, the reflection of animated discussion of "Communism—how great the danger?"

Votes were equally divided between seeking a detente with the U.S.S.R. if the U.S. is not weakened thereby; trying to win the cold war by every means short of war; and aiding and trading only with those East European countries which remain independent of Moscow.

An equal number of votes also favored and opposed recognizing Red China and admitting her to the U.N. Opinion on whether the U.S. should try to intensify the present rift between Red China and Russia favored 70 per cent to 30 per cent, trying to do so. Among the written-in comments were "I don't know" and "Decisions re our support of China or the U.S.S.R. should depend on the facts available to us, not on pre-judgment."

Places are still available in a discussion group meeting at the Carmel Foundation Town House Sunday afternoons at 2:15, under the direction of the Discussion Center of the Monterey Peninsula. Call 624-4810 for details.

District 29 Knights of Columbus Open House

The first annual District 29 Knights of Columbus Open House will be held in the San Carlos parish hall, Church and Figueroa Streets, Monterey, at 8:00 p.m., Monday next. The program is planned to show the workings of the Knights of Columbus to interested Catholic men and women of the entire Monterey Peninsula.

Grand Knights of the District K of C councils are: Richard Lucido, Monterey Council 1465; John Calcagno, Billie Burke Council 4593, Carmel; Ronald C. Meredith, Fr. Chas. T. Kerfs Council 5210, Pacific Grove and Daniel Sullivan, St. Francis Xavier Council 5261, Seaside District and Deputy, District 29, Frank P. Bruno.

5 CHS Seniors Honored by Board

Dr. Robert Newton, chairman of the Carmel Unified School District's Board of Education, opened the Feb. 13, meeting of the board by presenting certificates of merit to five Carmel High School seniors. The students, Steve Arnon, Elspeth Bobbs, Mary E. Hurn, James K. Miller, and Richard L. Whitelaw, received these certificates in recognition of their becoming finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Corp. tests. Letters of commendation for becoming semi-finalists in this scholarship testing program have also gone to seniors, Carlin Arriola, Kathleen Goulding and John S. Graham.

The tests of the National Merit Scholarship program are designed to find talented youngsters in all fields, and are participated in by schools all over America. Some 14,000 students have become semi-finalists, or finalists, but the number in each state is less than one percent of the graduating seniors in each state. They may receive scholarships from the foundation or from one of its sponsors ranging from $100 to $1500 per year, with a matching amount going to the college of their choice.

Principal Warren Edwards, also told the Board that twelve seniors at Carmel High have been notified they have been named as semi-finalists in the scholastic aptitude tests given by the state scholarship program. They are: Willa L. Gerber, Kathleen D. Goulding, John S. Graham, Richard W. Johnson, Steve G. Johnson, James K. Miller, James W. Purvis, Susan H. Rennels, Lawrence M. Sheingold, Andrew F. Smith, John C. Tracey, and Kenneth W. Wiese.

With thanks, the board accepted a gift of two potter's wheels, given to the district by the pottery classes of the Carmel Adult School, Robert M. Lynn, instructor. The wheels' costing a total of $338.00, were purchased with funds obtained from the sale of their work at the Monterey County Fair and a pre-Christmas sale at Sunset School, where they have been installed.

Other business before the board included a discussion on the sale of the former Captain Cooper School site to the State Department of Beaches and Parks. Since there is a discrepancy in the amount for which the property was appraised and what the state has offered to pay, the board decided to hold any action until the next meeting.

With regret and thanks for her 17 years of teaching at Carmel School, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Helen Larkey, to be effective at the end of this school year.

Danish Royal Navy Chief Guest of Admiral Bergin

Vice Admiral Svend Erik Pontoppidan, Commander in Chief, Royal Danish Navy will arrive at the Monterey Naval Air Facility tomorrow afternoon for a tour of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School. Vice Admiral Pontoppidan is visiting the U.S. as the guest of Admiral David L. McDonald, the United States Chief of Naval Operations. While at the Postgraduate School he will be the guest of Rear Admiral Charles K. Bergin, U.S. Navy, Superintendent of the School. The purpose of the visit is to familiarize the Admiral with the United States Naval Establishment, and escort officer.

Admiral Pontoppidan and his party depart Monterey Saturday morning for the Alameda Air Station.

Tough Contest Seen In Election

A large field of candidates appears likely to make Carmel's April 14 general municipal election a hard-fought contest for at least three of the vacancies to be filled. Only one of the candidates for the contested seats is considered a shoo-in: Mayor Eben Whittlesey. Prior experience in the office seems to indicate that former councilman Gunnar Norberg has a lead on the other candidates, also.

The papers taken out previously by Vice Admiral R.W. Hayler (ret.) were not filed, nor were those taken out Thursday morning by Ann C. Woolworth.

As the deadline for filing nomination papers passed at noon today, here is how the races shapes up:

FOR COUNCILMAN (Three vacancies)

Eben Whittlesey, incumbent; Joe Danysh, Steve Grant, Paul Hazzdovac, Gunnar Norberg, W. C. Phelps, Roland W. Scheffler.

FOR CITY TREASURER (One Vacancy)

Sam Coleman, incumbent; Harry Hilbert, Speirs Ruskell.

FOR CITY CLERK (One Vacancy)

Hugh Bayless, incumbent.

Feathers . . . From the Shaft

By Harry the Fletcher
No. 43

The love of life is nothing new and little thought about 'til you step back from some unnerving brink to clutch an unknown hand. You think there must be meaning, must be plan and reason why just one mere man is spared to stand erect once more—a chance to show what life is for.

So let me give to those in need a helping hand, as I received; A word of hope, a candle lit against the darkened, unseen pit. For every life is meant to be a star in all eternity; we have no time to waste on hate, and love is lost when love is late.

Then laugh, or sing, or jeer who may, there never was a better day to share a smile, to greet a friend—tomorrow has no start or end. And who can tell what time may bring to you who conquer fears, and sing an anthem to the stars above — for love of life, and life of love.

SALMON VS. THE FISHERMEN

The more hardy sport fishermen braved the hard Norwester that blew Saturday, the opening day of the salmon season. Some came to the launching sites but never put their boats in the water. Curley's hoist put 15 boats in the water and the total catch of these boats was nine fish just over the limit in size. Sunday was almost a complete washout. The weather has very little to do with the catch of salmon in the opinion of certain groups at the marina. The opinion most often expressed is that the season opens a month too soon. Too many small fish that have to be thrown back and in most cases die. Never having been a fisherman I would not know, just mentioning what I hear.

A BRUISER COMING UP
This Sunday the twenty third of February, the four yacht clubs making up the MONTEREY BAY YACHT RACING ASSOCIATION will enter their best wind ships and skippers in the gruelling

Monterey-Ano Nuevo race. The distance from the start, off Monterey to around the Ano Nuevo sea buoy and return, is some 70 miles and it is all sea racing. This will call for the boats to be in tip top shape as well as the skippers and crews that sail them. May the best crew win.

A SAFE BOATER

Taylor Pillsbury, rancher turned boater, recently bought a radar from Ed Muniz, proprietor of the Monterey Yacht Center on Wharf No. 2. It would be hard to find a better found boat than Taylor's beautiful 38-foot sea skiff. Not only does the boat have the best and latest navigational devices, but Taylor learned piloting and knows exactly how to use these aids. If all boaters were as careful and had knowledge of small craft navigation there would be no cause to worry about the licensing of boaters after examination, the same as motorists are in this state. Happy sailing Taylor, you deserve it.

Wind IN THE Pines

BY DON MARSHALL

Now that Valentine's Day is past, I thought it safe to pass along a delightful verse from a valentine produced in 1890 by one Charles J. Howard:

"Tittle tattle goes your tongue,
On a pivot it is hung;
Never ending it appears,
As it rattles in our ears.
Just to cackle like a goose,
Is its only earthly use;
Faster than an eagle flies,
Travels off its wicked lies."

And we think today's valentines are a trifle acid. I'm indebted to the United Airlines MAIN-LINER for this little gem.

An item from this morning's mail comes from the Forest Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The latest device to aid in the battle against the litterbugs is a can squasher.

The theory is that each camper will crush his cans in the gadget before he throws them in a trash barrel. The manufacturer claims that this will reduce tin can volume by 90%. Great. It will also reduce the number of trips that forest service personnel will have to make to empty the barrels. That's great too.

Anyone who has ever seen what the vandals that infest our national parks can do to even the most stoutly constructed fireplaces and picnic tables must be wondering, as I am, what the can crushers will look like after a season in use.

Over the weekend Dick and Annette Brill dropped in on me. Dick is a producer for the enigmatic deejay, Al (The Great One) Collins.

I met Dick and Annette with Al and Virginia when I was doing the publicity for a hotel in San Diego. Somewhere in my tattered possessions I have a photo of Al, who is built something like King Farouk, standing beside a swimming pool chatting with a diminutive French artist who calls herself Poucette.

In this shot Al is wearing dark glasses with square frames and his trademark black goatee. Below that there are great cascades of Collins coming down to the tent he wore and called a bathing suit. He looks for all the world like a darker version of Soglow's Little King, sans crown. All this is contrasted by this pencil-shaped Poucette, wearing a bikini. I tell you, this was something to behold. I swear I'll print that photo if I can find it.

In a more serious vein, have you noticed that, as of this writing, every member of the council and everyone running for the vacancies, is a businessman. Not that this is particularly bad, of course, but it seems odd to me that if there are those who object to that viewpoint then they ought to get together and put up a candidate.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone

Dear Sir:

The Canary or "Big-dog" (canis) Islands fascinate the biologist. This, tho, of course, the ancient tale of one-eyed giants is pure fiction. Botanizing on these African Islands brought us some novel experience:

The camouflage of those finches we dub "canaries." Most of our cage birds have golden-yellow plumage. This was selection-fixed mostly by breeders in Germany's Harz Mountains. The wild canaries we observed in their native island were remarkably well camouflaged. Feathers were blended green and yellow. This, in mixed sunlight and green foliage, held survival values against predators.

These sparrow-family songsters were numerous in the native Canary palm. Same is common in cultivation in California. Studying such canary birds in a wild palm clump, writer noticed that he was standing, not on earth, but on a carpet, really a mosaic, of the woody "dates" of that palm.

Here again was evidence of Nature's fecundity. The rule is: "Overproduce heavily, then, may the fittest survive." Was not Darwin correct in his theory?

Mission Altar Society Luncheon Meeting

On Thursday, Feb. 13, the monthly meeting of the Carmel Mission Basilica Altar Society was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Campbell, in the Carmel Rio Vista area. Mrs. John Frey was the co-hostess. Mrs. Shelburn Robison, the president, called for a business meeting during the noon hour, following which the hostesses served a Lenten luncheon at tables, beautifully decorated, in honor of St. Valentine.

The guests were Father Roger Dieudonne of the Carmel Mission and Father Juan Ornoz of the Archdiocese of San Francisco, who was the guest speaker.

The next meeting will be at the Villa Angelica, March 12 at 2 p.m.

Rev. John T. Ledger Addresses Kiwanians

Members of the Carmel Kiwanis entertained their ladies at their weekly luncheon in Pine Inn last Thursday.

Guest speaker, the Rev. John T. Ledger of St. John's Chapel, Monterey, using universal brotherhood as his theme, said that, in judging progress through the centuries, progress has been tragically slow. "While the Jewish ghettos of Europe so shocked the world that they have been virtually destroyed, United States still has its negro ghettos. We can ill afford to point a critical finger until prejudice and hatred are banished in our own front yard. Only when we emulate the Creator who created all men equal, can we hope for a world of peace, progress and the pursuit of happiness, not for the few, but for all."

For the W. E. van Loben Sels A Flying Trip to Europe and Two Weddings

Flying to Switzerland for the wedding of their daughter Judith, who became Mrs. Eugene Mirrer on Jan. 27, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels returned to Carmel just in time to host a wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Peter Becker (Dorothy Wolff) who were married here on St. Valentine's Day.

Judith van Loben Sels and Eugene Mirrer were married in the chambers of the Mayor of Geneva, with a reception following at the Hotel Epoque. Mr. Mirrer is completing his pre-medical training at the University of Geneva and the young pair plan to return to the U.S. via the Orient, in June.

Mr. and Mrs. van Loben Sels found time to visit Mrs. A. von Sprecher in Mienfeld, Switzerland and make whirlwind visits to Florence, Rome, Madrid and Lisbon before returning to California on Feb. 12.

Nothing seems to delight Mrs. van Loben Sels more than a whirl of hospitality and within 48 hours her lovely home on Carmelo was transformed into a bower of white chrysanthemums and greenery for the Becker's wedding reception.

The Wolff-Becker nuptials took place at the Church of the Wayfarer, Rev. K. Filmore Grey officiating.

Dorothy's wedding gown was of white velvet. She wore a mantilla of Spanish lace, loaned her by Mrs. Arthur L. Connell of Pebble Beach. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses. Miss Frances Wolff of Coalinga, sister of the bride, her only attendant, wore a red cocktail length dress and carried roses of a deeper hue.

Bud van Loben Sels acted as best man. Mrs. Francis Ryan Wolff, mother of the bride chose an ensemble of midnight blue brocade with a corsage of red roses, while Mrs. van Loben Sels, acting for the groom's mother, who is in Germany, wore an original design model of turquoise blue Dynasty silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker have deferred their wedding trip until June when they plan to go to Germany, especially to greet Mr. Becker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Herman Becker.

Peter's parents have been confined to East Berlin since the erection of the Wall. Having reached their 70th birthdays next June they will be free to meet their son and their new daughter-in-law in West Berlin.

Mrs. James Bishop

Woman's Club Speaker

The Garden Section of the Carmel Woman's Club of which Miss Gretchen Wahl is chairman, conscious of the increasing number of members who are giving up their homes with spacious grounds for the more modern apartments with only patios to care for, has an interesting program to offer at its meeting next Monday.

Mrs. James Bishop of the Pine View Nursery will talk on patios and what can be done with them. Mrs. Bishop is eminently qualified to speak on this subject as the Bishops have been on the Peninsula about 30 years and their ideas and plants can be seen in a majority of the gardens locally.

An extra treat will be door prizes furnished by the Pine View Nursery.

The meeting will start at 2 p.m. and in the absence of the Hospitality Chairman, her assistant, Mrs. Ray Esplen, will serve refreshments. Assisting her as hostesses will be Mesdames Ralph Heaton, E. M. Porter, Wm. A. Sumner and Mrs. Frank Wilkin-son.

Pouring will be Mrs. Thornton Allen, Mrs. Walter D. Brook, Miss Augusta DeForest and Mrs. Laurence E. Kinsler.

Add bits of snappy cheese to chopped, cooked vegetables heated with milk to make a tasty, satisfying soup.

Gail Doda of Salinas Elected Queen of Fort Ord's Sweetheart Ball

While Fort Ord is primarily dedicated to the training of our Army, it also has a little publicized aim and ambition. It is dedicated, on specified evenings, to the Elimination of Wall Flowers.

Last Saturday evening some 900 young men, bright-eyed, eager and dressed in their splendid uniformed best, crowded into the auditorium of the new service men's clubhouse No. 1 dedicated (feet first) to delighting the exquisitely gowned young ladies, who had come from near and far to attend the Sweetheart Ball.

There was just one problem facing the gentlemen in uniform. For all 900, there were just 69 sweethearts!

For the parents of daughters in their late teens there are undoubtedly gay memories of the World War I and II dances and parties for men in the service. "Everybody" was concerned about the man in uniform who was a long way from home, and lonesome. And today?

It is a deplorable fact that there are thousands of young men at our doorstep who are just as lonesome as the boys of two or more decades ago. Today's enlisted men are shamefully neglected when it comes to providing fun.

Through the efforts of Special Services, affiliated with the U.S.O. Entertainment on the base is a full fledged program.

Young women, over 18 years of age, are urged to attend the dances and programs in the beautiful Service Club No. 1. Registration in advance and personality "screening" is essential. All functions are supervised and chaperoned and group transportation, from as far away as San Jose, is provided by Fort Ord.

While most dances are informal, with informal dress the rule.

Saturday's Sweetheart Ball was a glamorous affair.

There were 5 nominees for the Queen's crown appearing before the five judges who found themselves in a quandry. Each nominee had her own particular charm. They were, Miss Anne Nickol of Watsonville; Miss Joan Kowalski of Santa Cruz; Miss Margaret Griffin of Fort Ord; Miss Carolyn Aussani of Monterey and Miss Gail Doda of Salinas.

Judges were Mrs. Marjorie Marshall, dean of students, Monterey Peninsula College; Mrs. Fred Elstob, news editor, Carmel Pine Cone; Hud Stevens, KDON newscaster; Lt. Melvin McKenzie and Pfc. Leonard Malvick.

The crown was awarded to Miss Gail Doda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Doda. Gail has been attending Fort Ord dances for the past seven months. She is taking vocational nursing training course at Hartnell College.

Escorting the Queen to the stage of the Club's auditorium was Pvt. William Rebecca of "C" Deck CDCEC Experimental Unit, elected Soldier of the Month.

To a fanfare of drums Miss Doda was crowned and presented with a bouquet of scarlet roses. The honor guard, escorting the judges to and from the stage was made up of members of the Fourth Brigade.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hermann Karl Heinz Peter Becker cut their wedding cake at their reception given by Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels. Richard Penoyer Photo—See Story pg. 3.

To Invest in Cookies

Garbed in their gay green uniforms the Girl Scouts of the Monterey Bay Council will be literally everywhere this Saturday and, until Saturday, March 7, they will be selling cookies.

Using the "buddy" system, the Scouts will canvass the area to which they are assigned in pairs. Each girl will be armed with her cookie identification card as well as a goodly supply of three types of cookies. There will be girls at tables and booths at busy spots in town as well as the door-to-door teams in action.

The purpose of the annual cookie sale is two-fold: to teach our young girls responsibility in meeting people and in handling money; second, the money raised is used for Council-wide projects.

PICNIC BY THE SEA

Mother Nature, with lavish hand,
Lays her table on the sand.
Pipers run with birdish glee,
To the feast set by the sea.

Mother Nature, to and fro,
From her pantry down below,
Taking not a moment's rest,
Brings forth tidbits for her guests.

Piper's legs fly merrily,
As they cry, "Hurree! Hurree!"
At the feast set by the sea.

CANDLES

Tall irises reflect the glowing dawn
In iridescent light, Slim buds reborn
Since yesterday enslave each sense anew
With beauty, wrought in tapestry of blue.
Incense in clouds veils Gothic arches, high
In dim cathedrals flung against the sky:
But subtler far the perfume damp and cool
From iris censers, swinging by the pool,
Wide branched like sacred candles, sevenfold,
That gleam on alien altars, dark and old,
Yet formed of living green, frail stems entwine:
Through alchemy, the garden is a shrine.
Each spring, miraculous to find them there,
God's candles, made to light men's souls to prayer

CHANCE WORD

Beware the chance word
dropt from the loved lip
Of one now preferred
as port to a ship . . .

Think not that you heard
or else it will rip
The song of a bird
from heart's jealous grip . . .

With evil devout
to panic joys herd,
The serpent of doubt lies coiled in that word . . .

RICHARD CAYTON

Richard Lofton's 1-Man
Show At Carmel Rancho

The current exhibition of Richard Lofton's recent work in the harmoniously appointed, well-lit gallery in the Carmel Rancho at the Valley mouth, will continue through Feb.

To the sophisticated public, not addicted to slick photographic likenesses, Lofton has long been known as an outstanding portrait painter. Some months ago he asked a number of his artist friends to sit for him. They responded with enthusiasm, and now a number of these canvases form an important part of the exhibition.

Painted at high speed in a loose slashing broad technique, the artist has caught not only an unmistakable outer semblance of the sitter, but that psychologic essence, without which a portrait is a dead and mechanical thing.

A large figure of Pat Carey dominates the group. The famous cartoonist, Eldon Dedini eyes us secretively, acute and sardonic. Arch Garner, the sculptor is here, done in the daring colors of the old-time Fauves. Quite differently keyed in muted tones of brown and black is the likeness of Robert Davy, with its subtle face, frail body, and the extraordinarily sensitive hands, suggested rather than painted with a few knowing strokes.

There are a number of fine winter landscapes, shivery with ice and cold; two canvases of southern Cypress swamps, in color as sinister and venomous as the country they depict. Particularly fine is the majestic "Red Landscape," a giant mountain formed by ascending multi-colored planes, that integrate into a grandiose pictorial statement.

A curious pagan side of Lofton is shown in a group of mythological subjects, fauns and dancing nymphs, centaurs and minotaurs in battle, sketched in paint with a wild abandon that turns even death into a kind of ritualistic dance. From a larger canvas in their midst a red-orange "Pan" raises his malevolent head, an interesting and perhaps, a Christian version of the old Greek myth.

Lofton surely is one of our most gifted painters and the present exhibit gives a comprehensive idea of the scope and versatility of his talent. —Ruth Ferro

Henry IV Opens At

Circle Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night's opening at the Golden Bough Theater will give Nick Zanides a starring role of major proportions — that of the mad monarch, Henry IV, in Pirandello's thrilling drama of the same name.

Marcia Hovick and Frederick Rider (who also directs the play) are cast as two important figures out of the "emperor's" past, revisiting him after a separation of 20 years. They bring with them a psychiatrist, played by Ron Martin, in an attempt to discover why this twentieth-century man imagines himself to be a Holy Roman Emperor. In the course of the developments which swiftly engulf them, they discover far more than they wish to know.

Irving Rogers, Tom Arnold, Terry Poland and Robert Krajenke make up a group of high spirited young counselors to the imaginary ruler; and Antony Thomas plays a faithful old servant.

Penelope Nesbitt is cast as Marcia Hovick's dangerously beautiful young daughter, and Michael Monnich as the daughter's fiancé.

HENRY IV is beginning a seven-week run, of which Sunday matinees, initiated this season, will continue to be a feature.

Educational TV

Due Here in April

After four years of preliminaries, the board of education of the C. U. S. gave the go-ahead for the district to participate in a county-wide program of educational television. Edward C. Coffin, county superintendent of schools, in a communication to the board said that the proposed air date is April of 1964. A relay from San Francisco's station KQED has been arranged for, and when the translator is installed all of the schools in the district will be able to receive the programming, with the exceptions of Capt. Cooper and Palo Colorado.

Station KQED is allowing the use of their programs on a no-cost basis for the remainder of the school year, and will furnish teacher guides and study materials as far as they are able. By September it is planned to have the programs fully integrated into the school system. The cost to our district shared by the county, this year for the translator, etc., will be $892.00, some of which will be returned in subsequent years, $.75 per viewing pupils in future years.

Eventually programs will be taped for the school's use at their convenience. The county superintendent's office may also put their own shows on tape for distribution throughout the school districts in Monterey County.

John Gosling's Boys Choir
Accepting New Members

Symphony Conductor John Gosling announces that his Boys Choir, under the auspices of All Saints Episcopal Church, will sing the evensong Festival Service at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco on Sunday, May 17.

The choir, made up of boys, 8 to 13 years old, is open to all boys of the Peninsula, regardless of church affiliations. The boys receive the equivalent of a private school education in the rudiments of music—sight singing, intervals and key signatures. Emphasis is placed upon liturgical and church music.

Rehearsals are held in All Saints Church, Wednesdays at 4 p.m. and Thursdays at 5:30 p.m., with Mr. Gosling directing and Robert Forbes, All Saints organist and choir director, at the organ.

The young singers gain experience by singing the church service at 9:30 a.m. alternate Sundays.

Any boy interested may be auditioned at any rehearsal.

Pliny the Elder's book "Natural History," published about 77 A.D., was drawn upon by writers on the many subjects it treated for 16 centuries.

PADRE PATER

by Mary Hurn

The recently posted results of class elections pleased us all. These results are: for the senior class president, Matt Little; vice-president, Chris Bingham; secretary, Daphne Dennis; and treasurer, Susie Rennels. The junior class officers are: president, Tom Hudson; vice-president, Bruce Goodsell; secretary, Beverly Blout; and treasurer, Rick Russel. The sophomore class had a large number of candidates. Consequently there, is a run-off between Dan Albert and Lisa Jaffe for president and between Dana Myers and Vicki Brimsmead for vice-president. Sue May was elected secretary and Anne Mewhirter was elected treasurer.

Carmel's five National Merit Finalists were presented with certificates of commendation at the Carmel School Board meeting last Thursday. The certificates were presented by Dr. Newton to Steve Arnon, Norrie Bobbs, Mary Hurn, Jim Miller, and Richard Whitelaw. Mr. Edwards said that this was the largest number of finalists Carmel has ever had in a single class. There are 13,000 finalists throughout the nation and they represent about one half of one percent of all high school seniors.

Mr. Edwards also announced that Carmel High School has 12 students who are now semi-finalists in the state scholarship competition. These students are Willa Gerber, Kathy Goulding, John Graham, Rich Johnson, Steve Johnson, Jim Miller, Jim Purvis, Susie Rennels, Larry Sheingold, Andy Smith, John Tracey, and Ken Wiese.

This year, the literary magazine of Carmel High School is sponsoring a literary contest for the student authors. The "Chameleon" is offering prizes which will be furnished by the Carmel Rotary Club. Prizes of $10, $5, and $2 will be awarded in the fields of free verse, formal verse, short stories, one-act

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

The Use Permit application by Jess Draper, of Palo Colorado Canyon, for an altered non-conforming use of a ten-acre site in Palo Colorado Canyon as a public campground will come before the Monterey County Board of Supervisors in Salinas, in a public hearing scheduled for Monday, Mar. 16 at 10:30 a.m. Draper's request for such re-zoning was denied by the Monterey County Planning Commission at a hearing held before that body late last month. At that time residents and residential property owners in the area, aroused over the possibility of such a campground in their community, made their protest known by their presence at the hearing and by a number of letters in opposition to the proposed use. Fears were expressed by these keenly interested residents that their water supply would be contaminated by the concentration of sanitary facilities necessary for the proposed camping area upstream. It was further protested that the County road traversing the canyon, following and crossing the creek, is very narrow, in fact one way, over a good portion of the lower residential area. The traffic increase, attendant with an operation of the kind proposed, would be objectionable because of the narrow road, since the road is used for pedestrian as well as auto traffic, and since it is the only way out of the canyon and would pose a tremendous problem in the event of fire in the area. The belief was also expressed that property values would be adversely affected if a campground were permitted in what is now a strictly residential area.

A recently released survey by the State Division of Highways, conducted at the request of State Senator Fred Farr, reveals that a proposed inland highway along the Santa Lucias from Monterey to San Luis Obispo County, would not be feasible. Various individuals and groups have agitated the idea of another route between the Monterey Peninsula and San Simeon and the Hearst Castle, to relieve traffic along Highway One, thereby stopping the need for large-scale changes in the existing road, and making it possible to drive more quickly between the two points.

The report by the State Division indicates that the cost of the proposed new highway was estimated between $36,500,000 and $56,500,000 and that this cost was much too high to warrant the possible advantages that would come from its construction. The suggested new route would reduce the driving time by less than ten minutes and the actual mileage between the two areas would possibly be increased by five or ten miles. Further in the report it is said that during a 1963 survey there were less than 100 cars per day using the highway and within the next 20 years it is estimated that the increase will possibly be less than 300 a day for a year-long period.

At the conclusion of a "day in town" the students of the Palo Colorado School and their teacher Mrs. Nancy Bottero, returned to their little one-room school, situated in the dramatic slopes of the Santa Lucia Mountains a dozen miles south of Carmel, with a large assortment of books which included a number of reference books and nature guides. The desire and the need for a more adequate library has been evident for some time, and as a result of the success of the school's recent holiday fair when they obtained a substantial sum from the sale of their hand-crafted articles, the students had funds with which to purchase "their very own books." Friends and neighbors of the school have donated floor to ceiling shelving and installed it in two separate areas of the school house. This will provide two library departments, one for the younger children and another for the older ones. The boys and girls themselves have stained the wood and are now in the process of fabricating curtains for the windows of their library.

At the Captain Cooper Elementary School in Big Sur, the entire student body is taking pleasure and pride in preparing a nature trail on their school property. The school site is ideal for such a project situated as it is on a high plateau in the Sur Country surrounded with an abundant growth of trees, shrubs and flowers. The trail, for the present, will terminate at the water tank on the hill above the buildings. As time permits the students are identifying the plants, flowers, etc., and making the proper signs for them. The signs are being carefully designed and made from wood that will hold up well in the coastal climate.

A Winner At the First Theatre

Chilling thrills, heart throbs, laughter and an invitation to sing your best and loudest are all yours with your ticket of admission to the First Theater of Monterey and its newest production of "A Working Girl's Wrongs" top echelon melo-drama of the century that was.

Each time this reviewer has visited the historic First Theater to witness a 19th century melo-drama, we've come away saying—"This is the best!" Last Friday's premiere of "A Working Girl's Wrongs" wins Best again!

Director Al Olinger has not only selected a fine cast; he has mounted the melodrama, told in four acts, each act demanding a new scene, with imagination and color.

Heading the excellent cast, are Marabee Rush as Molly Malloy and Fred Roberts as her true love. They portray their roles with highly professional skill. The same excellence in flamboyant acting must be attributed to Doris Cameron and Marvin Russell who portray the counter love interest. Madeline Hicks, the First Theater's beloved character woman, blind as a bat in the current production, melts even the stoniest heart; while Laverne Seeman, also a First Theater favorite plays the poor wronged creature to the hilt. The male characters win whole hearted applause, hisses and suspense. Perhaps most dastardly of all are Mr. Olinger as the arch seducer and Niniv Ibrahim as his fiendish henchman. The noble lads, enacted by John Kidwell, Ed Gingras, and Roger Kit-chens in addition to Mr. Roberts and Mr. Russell, are Brooklyn's finest and bravest, to the life.

As to the olio. We always applaud all the way through, and we mean it! The current acts are varied and very clever indeed. We particularly enjoyed "Anything Goes" choreographed by Patricia Ramsey. The singing, dancing and the costumes were tops. The Belles, singing "I Want A Daddy to Cuddle Me" really fussed a silver haired gentleman in Row One. He blushed! There were two pantomimes and, not to be missed, ever, "The Bushes in the Bottom of the Garden." Audience participation in singing the good old songs was more than whole hearted, it shook the rafters. Once again we've seen the best show ever done at The First Theater of Monterey. Don't miss "A Working Girl's Wrongs." It plays Friday and Saturday nights. C.E.

Mrs. Dredge Returned From Foreign Travels

Mrs. Armiger F. Dredge, who boarded the Liner President Cleveland, Dec. 22 for the Orient returned to Carmel this week in time to celebrate the 16th birthday of her niece, Miss Mary Jo Weatherford. Mary Jo was honored with a family dinner party on her birthday, Feb. 17 and Mrs. Dredge is planning a luncheon for her niece and her friends at the Beach Club this Saturday.

Visiting Japan, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Singapore and the Philippines, Mrs. Dredge went on to spend 12 days in Hawaii, returning to the mainland on the Liner Roosevelt.

"One of the highlights of my trip," Mrs. Dredge told the Pine Cone news editor, "was finding my copy of The Carmel Pine Cone awaiting me at every port. I shared it with everyone on board, even those who had never been to California, and now everybody plans to come to Carmel!"

Mrs. Dredge visited relatives in Honolulu and was delighted to run into Mrs. Laura Chester with whom she spent a day of sight-seeing.

It's Spring Again And Hiking Time

With Spring in the air (we hope) the local chapter of the Sierra Club will hold a 7-mile hike this Sunday, starting from Palo Colorado Canyon on Skinner Ridge and Turner Creek Trail.

The hike should afford opportunities to see many varieties of local trees and flowers, and rock scrambling for the more energetic. For information, call leader, Mrs. Ruth Albee, 624-7281.

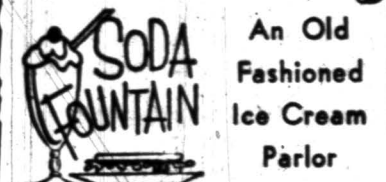

On March 8, from 2 to 5 p.m., the Ventana Chapter will hold a Knapsack Forum at the Walter Colton Jr. High School. All types of camping gear and equipment for outdoor activities, plus specialized foods and cooking utensils, will be on display. Two Sierra Club films on knapsacking will be shown during the afternoon.

The public are invited to attend all Sierra Club activities.

Extravaganza Saturday At York School Shop

Saturday afternoon on Cannery Row promises bargain hunters and seekers of the unusual a day of fun and profit. The York Shop of the Episcopal York School will hold its second Sidewalk Extravaganza this Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mrs. Barbara Dormody, Shop manager, aided by a host of volunteers, promises the fantastic sale of everything from lawnmowers to first editions; from mumus to Gay Nineties formals (maybe). The Extravaganza is a major fund raising event for the York School campus enlargement at Laguna Seca.

The renowned group, from Paris, includes Alfred Loewenguth, 1st violin; Jacques Gotkovsky, 2nd violin; Roger Roche, violin and Roger Loewenguth, violincello.

Hailed as the "Four Greats" the quartette has toured Europe,

South Africa and South America. The Carmel Music Society concert will be their first appearance on Monterey Peninsula.

CARMEL: TOWN AND COUNTRY

FEEL LIKE AN elegant country squire in a bosky and "rural" setting right in the heart of Carmel in the prestige area preferred by prominent "locals" such as senators, bankers, doctors and lawyers. Approached by a winding driveway through fabulous oaks and velvety lawns, the rambling house presents a hospitable aspect charmingly borne out by its eloquently informal interiors. Lovely bedrooms, beautiful baths, and a kitchen unexcelled for sheer beauty combined with every luxury of planning and organization, as well as superb equipment. And the sunny circular breakfast nook! And the simple dignity of the formal dining room and its intriguing bar! To say nothing of the guest house, handsomely paneled and appointed. The air of seclusion, and the peace and quiet, make it hard to believe you're right in town. Helen Ireland would love to show you our "Estate of the Week" — this week, or any week! Courtesy to brokers, of course.

The replacement value ((but not the price) of these four, attractive, completely furnished, one-bedroom houses is in excess of $100,000. The income potential has never been fully tested. Over the years we've often been told, "If that property ever comes on the market, let me know immediately." But, as we knew the owner would never sell, we didn't keep a list. However, his heirs do want to sell it, so it's on the open market at $85,000. Call us for an appointment to inspect.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT*ORDINANCE NO. 93 C.S.*AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING INTERIM ZONING WITH RESPECT TO ON-SITE, OFF-STREET PARKING FOR CERTAIN USES

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN as follows:

Section 1. It is hereby determined that it is both desirable and necessary that the within ordinance be adopted in order to properly implement the existing portions of the Municipal Code and other ordinances dealing with zoning matters and to carry out the determinations and objectives of Part X of the Municipal Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, pending the adoption of precise zoning regulations presently being considered and studied by the Planning Commission and the City Council of this city relating to on-site, off-street parking requirements of all commercial uses within the city with the exception of multiple dwelling use.

Section 2. No structure of the A to H, inclusive, occupancies, as such occupancies are defined in the Building Code, with the exception only of multiple dwellings, shall hereafter be erected or substantially altered to provide for a business use not carried on upon the building site of such proposed new or altered structure previous to February 5, 1964, unless and until the Planning Commission shall have approved the provision for adequate off-street vehicle parking facilities within the building site of such structures, when and if required by the Planning Commission. In determining the adequacy of off-street parking facilities to be provided on such site, the Planning Commission shall base its requirements on (A) type of business, (B) location of site, (C) size of site, (D) topography of site, (E) existing density of permanent type construction in the immediate vicinity, and (F) width and classification of streets upon which site abuts. The Planning Commission in this connection shall specify parking requirements, if any, for the site before any building permit involved shall issue. Any decision rendered under this section may be appealed to the City Council in the same manner as an appeal respecting an adjustment permit, as provided in Part X of the Municipal Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Section 3. This temporary zoning ordinance shall be of no further force and effect one (1) year from the date of its adoption unless extended as provided by law in such matters.

Section 4. It is the purpose of this ordinance to prohibit the establishment of uses without making provision for on-site, off-street parking which may be in conflict with permanent, precise zoning regulations being studied with respect to such on-site, off-street parking in connection with such uses.

Section 5. Statement of Urgency. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an urgency ordinance and shall take effect immediately upon final passage and adoption. The statement of urgency is as follows:

That it is necessary to adopt this ordinance to protect the public safety, health and welfare within the meaning of Section 65806 of the Government Code, in that the city is making studies of permanent zoning regulations as hereinabove recited in Section 1; that the adoption of this ordinance as an urgency measure is necessary so as to prevent an influx of new construction which, if permitted, would to a large extent render the permanent zoning regulations ineffective and hamper the adoption of a final, precise zoning regulation dealing with this matter.

The 17 boys and girls in Lynn Cadwell's fifth and sixth grade classes at the Captain Cooper School are eagerly looking forward to participating in an outdoor education week to be held in the Santa Cruz Mountains beginning Mar. 30. This is the first time that the Big Sur school students will have had the opportunity to take part in this program, because it was only within the last year that they became members of the Carmel Unified School system and thus were eligible for this activity. The outdoor education program comprises students from schools in Monterey, Santa Cruz and Santa Clara counties, and in addition to teachers from local schools, the staff includes undergraduates from San Jose State College. Each week end, until the end of March, members of Cadwell's classes will have cookie sales, car washes and other services in the Big Sur village area, to help themselves provide some of the funds required to attend the special week's schooling.

Tonight at the regularly scheduled meeting of the Big Sur Grange, Big Sur, Master of Grange Hugh Fleenor, will bring up for consideration the possibility of sponsoring a Boy Scout Troop in Big Sur. Last week at the Grange Hall a meeting was held in the interest of organizing a troop in the community. Area Commissioner for Boy Scouts, Glen Salyers of Carmel Valley proposed the meeting which was attended by interested parents and boys and a number of well-qualified individuals who have had considerable experience in Boy Scout activities. It was pointed out in that meeting that before a troop can be organized it must have a sponsor, the sponsor "will not run the Troop but will see that the Troop is run."

An oil painting of the extraordinary beauty of the Big Sur coastline, the work of painter Joshua Meador, was presented to President Lyndon Johnson last week by California State Democratic Chairman Eugene Wyman. Meador formerly of Carmel and curator of the Highlands Art Gallery, is a member of the Carmel Art Association and presently has his studio and home near Fort Bragg.

MONTEREY'S CRUISING CORINTHIANS

Bruce Harris, the Monterey contractor, along with his brother Sam and Bud Lindsey of Carmel as crew, are now taking it easy at La Paz in the Sea of Cortez. Bruce shoved off from the marina Jan. 28 and, after touching in at Newport for clearance and vittling, set sail for Mexican waters. He got quite a dusting off in the big blow that hit us on the peninsula and was busy clawing off a lee shore south of San Diego. Bruce's wife and daughter Kira expect to join the voyagers in one of the exotic southern ports at Easter time. All who know Bruce and of his beautiful schooner ALTURA are not a bit surprised that they are making good land-falls. Fair winds, Bruce.

FROM THE PILOT HOUSE

The winds for the first three days of this week have been fluky indeed. Monday with hard Northwest, Tuesday with a calm from early morning then at noon blowing hard from the Northeast until mid-afternoon then falling calm again. The barometer hangs high and there is very little cloudiness. A lot of inquiries regarding weather conditions these days at the Pilot House.

A NAUTICAL WRINKLE FOR THE BOATER

Shipmates, take another look at your lifesaving equipment and make sure you have enough for a boat of its class and that the type is approved by the Coast Guard. Check your fire extinguishers be sure they are up to weight. Your chances of being boarded by the Coast Guard for inspection are very good for the next month or so.

WEATHERWISE in the area from Cypress Point to Santa Cruz Saturday and Sunday the boater can expect: Sky generally clear, wind N.W. 5 to 18 knots in the afternoon both days. Sea moderate, long westerly swell. Day time temperatures ranging from 58-66 degrees fahrenheit both days. Scattered clouds likely Sunday afternoon. Probability of rain in this area 30 per cent Saturday 40 per cent Sunday. For our neighbors ashore you can expect two clear days with gentle northerly winds. High temperatures both days at noon 66 - 68 degrees fahrenheit. It looks like fun weather, enjoy it.
